GRANT WRITING ESSENTIALS FOR EAST ASIAN STUDIES:
A Workshop on Faculty & Student Perspectives

This two-part workshop will begin with a panel of EAS faculty members sharing their insights and best practices for writing grant applications, a vital skill for all in our field. The panel will be followed by a hands-on session where faculty and students will work together to hone your early drafts.

This is a rare and important opportunity to develop your professional writing skills, and we look forward to seeing all of you there. While we will focus on writing strategies for Ph.D. dissertation research grants, we will discuss a variety of grant formats and opportunities, and we strongly encourage you to attend regardless of your field or year in our M.A. or Ph.D. program. As many competitive grants are due in the coming months, now is the perfect time to get started. We ask that all participants bring a short draft of the first paragraph of your proposal statement to share with the group.

Please RSVP to Dr. Schlachet (jschlachet@arizona.edu) and contact Skye Osuka (osukasor@arizona.edu) with any questions. We look forward to seeing you there!
